Printed March 8th, 2016

March Madness... More Like Art Madness!

It's a race against the clock!

Artists are given the opportunity to use the space and tools in the Push Pull Art Gallery in Ballard to create a masterpiece. Artists will have from 10am-5pm to finish their art piece based on the prompt in the image (left). In addition to the tools provided in the work room, artists are also welcomed to bring their own tools and they must bring their own canvas or paper. Once the clock reaches 5pm, all tools must be put down and all artwork will be displayed for the Ballard Art Walk that night from 6pm-10pm.

Are you an aspiring artist who would like to participate?

Register at: <http://pushpullseattle.weebly.com/> to secure your spot with a $20 registration fee.

City of Music Career Day

Seattle music industry is opening doors for youth!

Every year, the Seattle Music Commission hosts the City of Music Career Day alongside the EMP Museum, The Vera Project, One Reel, Office of Film + Music, and the Office of Art + Culture. This day is for anyone interested in the music industry, not only limited to songwriters and musicians, but to anyone interested in music journalism, recording, artist management, retail, broadcasting, and more! Through a day of performances, workshops, and experiential learning, Seattle youth will be granted the opportunity to meet industry professionals from the Seattle area to learn, build connections, and get one step closer to their dream careers! Interested? You MUST register online at <http://www.careerday.onereel.org/>!

Garfield Poetry Slam

Prepare yourself to slam!

Spoken word is one of the best ways to express your emotions, the issues you care about, and other topics that are often hard to get out into the open in everyday conversations. Nevertheless, speaking about it on stage in front of an audience also takes a lot of courage, so come out and support your fellow bulldogs at Garfield's first poetry slam!
